

SANEM CoRE Submission Guidelines

What We Are Looking For:

Blogs covering diverse, thought-provoking topics, including but not limited to economics, health, climate, gender, tech, and governance, with a flexible structure that allows for personal insights, perspectives, and creativity.

Key Categories (Including but not limited to):

- Agriculture and Rural Economy
- Energy Economics
- Environment and Climate Change
- Gender Studies
- Health
- Inequality
- Human Capital Development
- Trade and Regional Integration
- Infrastructure and Investment
- Institutions and Political Economy
- Macroeconomy and Economic Growth
- Migration and Labor Market
- Poverty and Inequality
- Social Protection
- Sustainability

Submission Requirements:

Word Count: 800–2000 words

Language: Bangla or English

Style: Clear, simple, and accessible. Avoid jargon unless necessary.

References & Citations

Hyperlinks: Link sources directly in the blog body.

Submit here: <https://forms.gle/TzMhqEvw4DvDeX4T6>

Include:

Blog title

Introduction: Briefly introduce the topic and its relevance to economics.

Full blog body (Word/docx format)

Author bio (50–60 words)

Optional headshot

Editorial Process: Submissions will be reviewed and edited for clarity and readability.

Publication Rights: SANEM reserves the right to publish and distribute content.